

Against Compulsory Service
SCRANTON, Pa., Sept. 2.—The Spanish-American war veterans in convention here today refused to approve a resolution favoring compulsory service in the United States army. There was no debate, the convention merely recommending that it be withdrawn and the delegates accepted.

STOPS FALLING HAIR

This Home-Made Mixture Stops Dandruff and Falling Hair and Aids Its Growth.

To a half pint of water add:

Bay Rum 1 oz.
Baro Compound a small box
Glycerine 1/2 oz.

These are all simple ingredients that you can buy from any druggist at very little cost, and mix them yourself. Apply to the scalp once a day for two weeks, then once every other week until all the mixture is used. A half pound should be enough to rid the head of dandruff and kill the dandruff germs. It stops the hair from falling out and reduces itching and scalp disease.

Although it is not a dye, it acts upon the hair root and will darken streaked, faded, gray hair in ten or fifteen days. It promotes the growth of the hair and makes harsh hair soft and glossy.—Advt.

35 ARABIC PASSENGERS HERE; NONE SAW U-BOAT ATTACK THE LINER

was heading for us suddenly turned back. We learned afterwards they had been ordered by the submarine to keep away from us. The sailors in that boat and the other boats were all waving their arms at us. We thought they were urging us to come to them more rapidly. Actually they were signalling us of our danger and frantically motioning us to get away and run for our lives. Nobody on the Arabic saw the submarine.

"The First Officer, Mr. Steele, saw the wake of a torpedo approaching us. He shouted the order 'Hard a starboard.' At the moment he gave the order the torpedo was headed for us amidstships on the starboard side.

"The Arabic was under good headway and answered the helm immediately, swinging in a short circle. The torpedo struck her astern on the starboard side. The shock staggered all of us and threw some to the deck.

"Discipline was excellent. Officers ran along the decks ordering those who were without life-belts to put them on at once and assigning them to boats. A bugler sounded the call to the decks fore and aft.

"With Mrs. Livingston I got into the boat which was launched. It was swaying up and down and there was no officer in charge. Perhaps because the sailors were not familiar with boat work the forward sail jammed and the boat went down stern first. We were nearly spilled into the sea.

"When we were afloat, Chris Macnamara, a French waiter I had not seen for ten years until that moment, appeared at the rail and hauled me. He was about to slide down the tail to us when he called his attention to the starboard side. Some of Yarmouth, who was sitting about on the deck, was shouting over hand.

"Macnamara, I told him to jump to us. He pulled away from him and escaped. Macnamara is a trained actress, a tragic performer. He caught me and held me tight into the boat, though she was a boat of luxury, and then came down the fall into the sea.

"The Arabic was sinking very fast, and we rowed away from her to give ourselves time being caught in the suction of the great wake it had created, which was five Officer's boats.

"When we saw had no officer in put his boat in charge of a subordinate and came over to us. The Arabic went down after sinking by the stern until she pointed her stem straight up at the sky with about a hundred feet of cable.

"We rowed around aimlessly until about 2 o'clock in the afternoon when the mine sweeper Magnolia came to our relief and took us aboard. We picked up several sailors who were swimming. While the Magnolia was picking up our boat the sun went down, the sky becoming filled with clouds at 8 P. M. It was impossible to tell whether the shots reached the mark. The Magnolia took us to Queenstown, where we were magnificently treated.

ETTOR GETS SIX MONTHS AFTER RIOT AT MEETING

WATKINSBURG, Conn., Sept. 2.—Joseph Ettor of the Industrial Workers of the World, who has been addressing mass meetings in a hall since the police refused him permission to speak on the streets, was sentenced to jail for six months by Judge W. J. Larkin Jr. to-day for breach of the peace.

Ettor, in his speech last night, abused the Police Department and then tried to spit Detective Berg.

The disturbance required seven officers to quell.

An appeal from the sentence was taken by Ettor.
